

Match The Shadow

These simple "match up" puzzles help children with observation skills. They will also need to learn a way of marking or remembering which items they have matched, so that they can identify the odd ones out. If you would like to reuse puzzles you could place counters on each "pair" that your child finds, perhaps.

